Answer ALL Questions

[All portions of each question must be answered sequentially.]

1.	Show the reasons behind the Partition of Bengal in 1905. To what extent was it an administrative necessity, and to what extent was it a political strategy to weaken the nationalist movement.	8	CLO1 Level-2
2.	From the printing press to the prison cell - Evaluate the paradox of progress and oppression under British colonial rule in British India.	8	CLO2 Level-3
3.	A constitution is often called the mirror of a nation and it reflects the values, aspirations, and political philosophy of its people. In 1956, Pakistan framed its first constitution, aiming to embody the principles of democracy. Identify the salient features of the Constitution of 1956.	8	CLO2 Level-3
4.	History reminds us that when political voices fade, student voices rise — from the streets of Dhaka in 1962 to the July uprisings of the present day, students have often been the driving force of change. Analyze the role of students in the 1962 movement in East Pakistan. How does their legacy provide insight into the motivations and dynamics of the recent student-led July uprising?	8	CLO3 Level-4
5.	Imagine a nation divided not by geography alone, but by deep-rooted injustices where millions are silenced, their culture dismissed, their voices ignored, and their rights trampled by those who claim to govern them. This was the reality of East Pakistan, a land rich in people and resources, yet shackled by political oppression and economic neglect from its western counterpart. Examine the nature and impact of Political, Economic, Administrative and Cultural discrimination between East and West Pakistan. How did these inequalities contribute to the rise of Bengali nationalism?	8	CLO3 Level-4
